INVESTMENT MANAGER'S REPORTS

For the financial year ended 31 March 2023

Canaccord Genuity Cautious Fund

Fund's performance

For the 12 months to 31 March 2023, the Fund fell 5.29% (R class). This compared to a 5.50% fall for the Fund's peer group, the Morningstar EAA GBP Moderately Cautious Allocation sector.

Market review

The second and third quarters of 2022 didn't get any easier as far as financial markets were concerned, with global inflation and US interest rate policy once again the root cause of the volatility. Chair of the US Federal Reserve ("Fed"), Jerome Powell, vowed to keep raising rates until either inflation showed clear and decisive signs of moving towards target, or growth and employment shifted decisively lower. In the face of this policy backdrop, very few assets were able to make money during the first half of the reporting period.

The fourth quarter brought with it some welcome relief for investors. After three consecutive quarters when both bonds and equities fell, the end of the year saw most financial markets gain back some ground, although this was generally not sufficient to recoup previous losses. The primary catalyst was clear signs that US inflation appeared to have turned a corner and was on a firm downtrend.

This positive momentum continued into 2023, although the failure of Silicon Valley Bank and its counterpart, Signature Bank, was a reminder that, in the history of financial markets, the adage that the Fed raises rates 'until something breaks' has validity. Despite this, the first quarter of 2023 remained supportive for financial markets. Global equities, as measured by the FTSE All-World, rose 7.1% in US dollar terms, led by Europe, with the FTSE Europe ex UK index gaining 10.2%. Meanwhile, the US stockmarket, as measured by the S&P 500, rose 7.5% in total return terms. Crucially, 95% of that was attributable to the performance of just 10 stocks, all of which are technology related to a greater or lesser degree. With concerns regarding growth and liquidity rising, investors sought the perceived security of the large cap growth stocks which were so out of favour in 2022.

Activity/review

The Fund outperformed its peer group during the period under review, as many of the Fund's underlying equity income fund managers were able to outperform their market benchmarks.

A number of changes were made to the Fund during August. The primary change was to begin increasing the fixed income exposure, which in this instance was implemented through purchases of the AXA US Short Duration High Yield Fund, and iShares USD Treasury 7-10Y UCITS ETF. The Fund's holding in TB Evenlode Global Income was also reduced, allowing for a purchase of the deeper value Schroder Global Equity Income.

During the first quarter of 2023, the equity weighting was reduced by approximately 5%. Sales of the M&G US Dividend Fund, Prusik Asian Equity and CIM Dividend Income were made, together with reducing the Fund's international equity exposure. Part of these proceeds were used to initiate an exposure to Japan through the Baillie Gifford Japanese Income Fund, while the weighting to the UK was increased through an additional purchase of the Threadneedle UK Equity Income Fund. The bulk of the sale proceeds were retained in cash.

Outlook

While the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank and Signature Bank and Credit Suisse's subsequent controversial rescue package has introduced significant unease, it is possible to realistically construct a positive outlook because of these developments. As the Fed noted in the statement which accompanied March's 0.25% interest rate rise, "recent (banking system) developments are likely to result in tighter credit conditions for households and businesses and to weigh on economic activity, hiring, and inflation. The extent of these effects is uncertain."

While this might not sound like great news at first glance, it should be remembered that tighter credit conditions will act to slow economic growth. And that is exactly what policymakers have been trying to achieve since the rate tightening cycle began. The upshot is that this may have hastened the peak in interest rates. Ultimately, it was the significant shift higher in interest rates which caused both bonds and equities to correct so viciously in 2022. Therefore, if markets are correct and rates have peaked, then all other things being equal this should ultimately prove to be a positive development.

Fund's performance

For the 12 months to 31 March 2023, the Fund fell 8.68% (R class). This compared to a 6.57% fall for the Fund's peer group, the Morningstar EAA USD Moderate Allocation sector.

Market review

The second and third quarters of 2022 didn't get any easier as far as financial markets were concerned, with global inflation and US interest rate policy once again the root cause of the volatility. Chair of the US Federal Reserve ("Fed"), Jerome Powell, vowed to keep raising rates until either inflation showed clear and decisive signs of moving towards target, or growth and employment shifted decisively lower. In the face of this policy backdrop, very few assets were able to make money during the first half of the reporting period.

The fourth quarter brought with it some welcome relief for investors. After three consecutive quarters when both bonds and equities fell, the end of the year saw most financial markets gain back some ground, although this was generally not sufficient to recoup previous losses. The primary catalyst was clear signs that US inflation appeared to have turned a corner and was on a firm downtrend.

This positive momentum continued into 2023, although the failure of Silicon Valley Bank and its counterpart, Signature Bank, was a reminder that, in the history of financial markets, the adage that the Fed raises rates 'until something breaks' has validity. Despite this, the first quarter of 2023 remained supportive for financial markets. Global equities, as measured by the FTSE All-World, rose 7.1% in US dollar terms, led by Europe, with the FTSE Europe ex UK index gaining 10.2%. Meanwhile, the US stockmarket, as measured by the S&P 500, rose 7.5% in total return terms.

Activity/review

The Fund underperformed its peer group over the reporting period, as many of the underlying Fund's investments struggled to match the performance of their market benchmarks.

The Fund sold 4% of its holding in the Artemis US Smaller Companies fund during May and invested the proceeds equally between the iShares MSCI World Minimum Volatility ETF and the Fund's existing holding in the US Treasury 1.625% 15/02/2026. During September the exposure to corporate bonds was increased at the expense of government issues as we felt that the risk and return trade-off for corporate issues had significantly improved. We also reduced the exposure to US equities as we believed that US stocks could lag other regions, driven in part by a weaker dollar.

A number of changes were implemented at the end of September and early October in order to further diversify the Fund's holdings across different assets, regions, sectors and investment styles. During the first quarter of 2023, the equity weighting was reduced by approximately 5%. Sales of the M&G US Dividend Fund, Prusik Asian Equity and CIM Dividend Income were made, together with reducing the Fund's international equity exposure. Part of these proceeds were used to initiate an exposure to Japan through the Baillie Gifford Japanese Income Fund, while the weighting to the UK was increased through an additional purchase of the Threadneedle UK Equity Income Fund. Market review

Whether you were investing in equities, bonds or commodities over the last year, the impact of macro factors on your investments has been hard to ignore. The impact of the war in Ukraine, in combination with economies reopening after COVID, had profound impacts on energy costs and inflation. Meanwhile, the pace and scale of the policy response from Central Banks, in response to the inflation shock, led to record losses across many of the major bond markets as well as hitting equity markets hard. More recently, stock prices have started to recover as investors anticipate the end of the current interest rate cycle, but questions remain over the impact of higher rates on economic growth and corporate earnings, as well as on the institutions and structures that originated and thrived during a decade of zero interest rates.

Activity/review

The Fund underperformed its peer group over the reporting period in large part due to the impact of its European allocation in April of last year, as the war in Ukraine weighed on investor sentiment toward the region. Since our half year report in September, the Fund has performed broadly in-line with its peer group.

In terms of activity, the overall equity/cash split within the Fund is little changed since the half year review. There have, however, been significant changes to the underlying make-up of the equity content during the intervening period, which is discussed below. We have also taken the opportunity to add exposure to money markets funds and short-dated Treasury Bills at attractive interest rates in recent months. Longer-term investors will know that a certain amount of cash is always maintained to offset the Fund's more concentrated equity holdings, so it is a welcome change to lock in yields of 4.5% and above for this portion of the Fund's investments, after many years of little or no return from cash.

Within the equity portion of the portfolio, the most significant changes were the sale of the Fund's 17% allocation to global stock market trackers, with the proceeds redeployed into regional stock markets. The Fund's allocation to energy stocks was also sold in the first quarter of 2023. Regional equity additions included a 10% increase in the Fund's weighting in Europe, a 6.5% increase in its Asian and emerging markets holdings and the establishment of a 4% allocation to Japan, via the Morant Wright Fuji Yield fund and the Vanguard FTSE Japan UCITS ETF.

In the case of Japan, we are encouraged that more and more cash rich companies are now starting to deploy this liquidity to the benefit of shareholders, either through accretive acquisitions or increased dividends and share buybacks. We also see the lack of interest shown by international investors in Japan as a good contrarian indicator.

Having reduced the Fund's European exposure following Russia's invasion of Ukraine, we have steadily rebuilt the Fund's exposure in the last 5 months. While the on-going conflict tempers our enthusiasm to some degree, the outlook for Europe has improved considerably now that the worst fears of energy shortages during the winter are behind us. Depressed valuations, both relative to history and global peers, also provide an attractive entry point.

Finally, the Fund's allocations to Asia and emerging markets were raised in response to China's rapid reversal of its zero-tolerance approach to COVID the turn of the year. We believe this will fuel a domestic, demand-driven economic recovery as Chinese consumers begin deploying their significant accumulated savings. It will also diminish the threat of further supply chain disturbances that have impacted inflation around the world and lead to increased demand for goods and services across Asia. Increased domestic demand will reduce the incentive to devalue the yuan, which is positive for emerging market currencies and equities.

Outlook

While stock prices have recovered from their 2022 lows, the Fund remains cautiously positioned, with a below average weighting in equities. This is primarily expressed through an underweight allocation to US stocks, which we see as expensive in absolute and relative terms, rather than a negative view on all markets. However, as noted above, we remain wary of the impact that inflation and higher interest rates are having on corporate earnings and believe it is prudent to hold some additional liquidity in the Fund at this time.

Canaccord Genuity Bond Fund

Fund's performance

For the 12 months to 31 March 2023, the Fund fell 5.82% in total return terms (net of all fees and expenses). As a comparative, the FTSE UK Government Bond 3-7yr index fell 5.78% for the same period.

Market review

The unstoppable rise in both expectations of Central Bank interest rate hikes and government bond yields had a major impact during the early part of the period under review. Fixed interest assets clearly lost their mantle of defensiveness during a very difficult period for markets. US Federal Reserve ("Fed") Chairman, Jerome Powell, was also quite hawkish in August emphasising that beating inflation was the undisputed objective leading to further increases in bond yields. 2022 turned out to be a complete outlier in the history of markets and the chances of a repeat are very low. We no longer live in a zero-interest rate world and in fact 4-5% is likely to be a more regular feature. However, there is now some tug-of-war between markets and the Fed over the future path of interest rates and the likely timing of any peak and pause in this cycle. An important transition year ahead from the horrible 2022 downdraft in fixed interest markets.

Activity/review

The allocation to Sterling AAA rated / quasi-government bonds which gives some ballast to the fund has an average yield-to-maturity of 4.72% which compares very favourably with 5 year UK Gilts at 3.36%. Sterling investment grade bonds account for approximately 38% of the Fund. The Sterling investment grade bucket is targeted around single A rated debt and offers an overall yield to maturity for the Fund of 5.78%. There is also a 9% allocation to US Treasuries (Conventional and Index-Linked) with an average yield to maturity of 3.73%. The specialist fund allocation is approximately 20%.

The Fund's headline yield to maturity (YTM) is currently at 5.23% and we are currently targeting an income delivery of around 2 ½ to 3% per annum. The Fund's duration is 3.20 years. The Fund's credit quality is strong with a weighting to the highest quality assets of 45% (AAA/AA/cash).

The focus has remained in shorter-dated maturities as heavily inverted (higher yields in shorter-dated maturities compared to longer-dated) yield curves leaves little risk appetite for heading into longer maturity bonds. The re-pricing of fixed interest markets in 2022 has left corporate bonds very attractive however without taking undue interest rate risk and we are being sensibly compensated in the corporate bond exposures that have been maintained on the Fund.

Outlook

At this stage there are considerable uncertainties in both directions in terms of growth and inflation going forward. There are some differences between markets and the Fed over the future path of interest rates, with markets anticipating cuts in the second half of this year and the Fed stating it would keep them unchanged in 2023. The Fund continues to maintain a broad diversification as a result encompassing a blend of traditional plain-vanilla bond assets complemented by specialist/thematic bond fund strategies.

Canaccord Genuity Global Equity Fund

Fund's performance

For the 12 months to 31 March 2023, the Fund fell 13.2% (R USD Acc share class). This compared to a 6.9% fall for the benchmark, the FTSE All World Total Return USD. In the last 6 months (to 31 March 2023) performance has been strong, with the Fund up 24.7% compared to the FTSE All World Total Return USD up 18.0%. The Fund suffered in the first 6 months (to 30 September 2022) as growth stocks de-rated. The strength of the USD also had a significant negative impact on Fund's performance in the first half as non-USD holdings suffered a negative translation effect. In line with the strategy, the portfolio is more geographically diverse than the benchmark, with c.70% of the portfolio in non-US companies compared to the FTSE All-World Index at <40%. More recently the Fund has benefited from a weaker USD.

Market review

High levels of inflation continued across the developed world and central banks responded by increasing interest rates. Bonds yields rose with the US 2-year treasury yield increasing from 2.3% in March 2022 to 4.7% in November 2022 and this led to a continued de-rating of equity growth markets. Initially, US Federal Reserve ("Fed") increased interest rates at a faster pace than other developed market central banks such as the European Central Bank and Bank of England, leading to considerable strengthening of the US Dollar, a safe-haven currency.

Stock markets started to rally in the final quarter of 2022 as data showed inflation nearing its peak. This softened expectations for further interest rates rises, particularly in the USA. The rally in equities continued into the new year as inflation continued to normalise, albeit remaining at elevated levels. The US 2-year treasury yield continued to rise, peaking above 5% on 8th March; central banks vowed to bring inflation back towards their 2% target. Unemployment rates remained near all-time lows across the developed world. However, the regional banking crisis in the US brought about expectations of lower credit availability and a subsequent dampening effect on GDP growth. In Europe and the UK, economic data has been surprisingly strong.

Activity/review

Throughout the year, we gradually adjusted the portfolio to account for changes in the macroeconomic environment. We had previously sold out of some US technology names given the combination of high valuations and rising interest rates. We also exited some cyclical industrial stocks given the deteriorating economic outlook. We bought into some high-quality names that should demonstrate resilient demand in an uncertain economic environment. Examples include pharmaceutical business Eli Lilly, which has a strong position in the GLP-1 diabetes market with potential for expansion into the global obesity market. We also added McDonald's, which continues to expand in emerging markets and has also benefited from trading down in the West during the cost-of-living crisis.

Our large holdings in luxury stocks performed very well as demand for their products has remained strong despite significant price increases to cover cost inflation. Examples included LVMH, Hermes and Ferrari. The latter two in particular benefit from product exclusivity, with demand significantly in excess of supply. We have also benefitted from our exposure to strong brands within the consumer staples space with Intercos, Lotus Bakeries and Lindt performing particularly well. Having put through significant price increases, we expect these companies to see a margin benefit as cost inflation normalises. Intercos is the world's leading manufacturer of make-up products for the likes of Estee Lauder, Chanel and L'Oréal. We did not take part in the IPO in 2021 on valuation concerns but instead waited for a more attractive entry point following a number of meetings with the senior management team.

Outlook

Expectations for peak interest rate levels will continue to move up and down dependent on inflation data. Whilst we do not expect significant interest rate cuts this year, the sharp rate rises of the last 18 months are unlikely to continue. This should bring an end to the persistent de-rating of growth stocks and bring more focus to earnings expectations. Our portfolio of profitable leading companies from a wide range of industries should be well positioned to navigate the uncertain economic environment and take market share from competitors. With the US economy starting to show signs of a slowdown the general expectation is for further dollar weakness. We believe that European equities look relatively attractive.

Canaccord Genuity Thematic ESG Fund*

Fund's performance

For the 3 months to 31 March 2023, the Fund NAV fell 1.8% (GBP R class). This compared to a 4.38% rise for the Fund's peer group, the Morningstar EAA USD Aggressive Allocation sector.

Market review

This was a quarter where markets were troubled by two key concerns: the unwelcome return of inflation and whether problems in Silicon Valley Bank and Credit Suisse were representative of a more systemic issue. It was a positive but volatile quarter for both the portfolios and risk assets but market sentiment was poor. Paradoxically this sombre mood masked some very positive developments within the themes reflected in the portfolio. The IEA noted renewable energy will become the biggest source of global electricity generation by 2025 and it is expected this shift will accelerate as a result of the ongoing conflict in the Ukraine.

While government commitment to net zero targets tends to be well flagged by media commentators, corporate success in this area often gets overlooked. Recently Apple announced its fourth solar project in Nevada and this highlights a growing trend of companies managing to grow their revenues and reduce their carbon emissions. This is primarily down to the significant cost reductions in renewable energy over the past decade. BloombergNEF also recently noted that solar or onshore wind was the cheapest source of over 90% of the world's electricity. Net zero increasingly makes economic sense for more and more companies.

Activity/review

The Fund underperformed its peer group over the quarterly reporting period for two reasons. Firstly the Fund was newly launched and overweight cash as the fund allocated to fund managers. Secondly, many of the underlying fund managers underperformed the broader market benchmark over the second half of the reporting period. This underperformance came primarily from an overall underweight by our underlying fund managers to the big large cap technology stocks (principally Apple and Facebook) during a period where this narrow group of names drove overall market returns. Our fund managers tend to have a greater exposure to small and midcaps rather than megacap stocks. Exposure to defensive areas of the market like healthcare, infrastructure and consumer staples also proved to be a detractor from returns during a market rally that favoured riskier stocks.

The strongest performing areas of the Fund were our underlying fund managers investments in robotics and batteries. Automation and electrification continue to be vital parts of global industrial strategy as countries increasingly view these technologies as mission critical. Links to artificial intelligence and specifically language learning models (LLMs) proved to be a particular benefit for companies as the market got very excited about the prospects of smart robots changing the world as we know it.

During the quarter a number of fund purchases were made in order to build up the equity weighting of the fund. This cash was spread across various holdings and geographies to ensure that the regional, sector and market cap exposure of the fund was diversified. We made further investments during March tilting the fund towards managers which we believe would benefit most from a recovery in environmental market opportunities. There were no sales made during the reporting period.

Outlook

We see the balance of risks for both the global economy and markets as operating on a tightrope. One can adopt both a glass half empty and half full assessment for the prospects for returns from risk assets. On the negative side we are clearly moving to a new cycle where both interest rates and inflation are higher. It is also fair to say that in areas of the market low rates hid a lack of discipline in company strategy, and many of these flaws are being ruthlessly exposed as financial conditions become tighter. On the positive side, generally our fund managers are now able to find attractively growing companies targeting hugely exciting sustainable themes at less demanding valuations. The arguments around ESG issues focused on by politicians and the media obscure the fact there is now an economic and geopolitical incentive around sustainability rather than purely a moral one.

Reducing inflation, strong labour markets, higher consumer savings, an improvement in supply chain resilience, surprisingly robust energy provision in Europe and Chinese reopening could keep recession at bay, in our opinion, leaving a soft-landing as significantly higher than a non-zero probability outcome. Market could potentially move higher as the year progresses, but with more regular bouts of volatility given the constantly changing geopolitical and economic environment.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the Directors with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current financial year and include the most significant assessed risks of material misstatement (whether or not due to fraud) we identified, including those which had the greatest effect on: the overall audit strategy, the allocation of resources in the audit, and the directing of efforts of the engagement team. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and therefore we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Independent auditor's report to the members of Canaccord Genuity Investment Funds Plc

Overall audit strategy

We designed our audit by determining materiality and assessing the risks of material misstatement in the financial statements. In particular, we looked at where the Directors made subjective judgements, for example, the selection of pricing sources to value the investment portfolio. We also addressed the risk of management override of internal controls, including evaluating whether there was any evidence of potential bias that could result in a risk of material misstatement due to fraud. Based on our considerations as set out below, our areas of focus include existence and valuation of financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss.

How we tailored the audit scope

The Company is an open ended investment company with variable capital and segregated liability between sub-funds. As at 31 March 2023, there were seven sub-funds in existence namely, Canaccord Genuity Cautious Fund, Canaccord Genuity Balanced Fund, Canaccord Genuity Growth Fund, Canaccord Genuity Opportunity Fund, Canaccord Genuity Bond Fund, Canaccord Genuity Global Equity Fund and Canaccord Genuity Thematic ESG Fund, and are listed on the Euronext Dublin.

The Directors control the affairs of the Company and they are responsible for the overall investment policy, which is determined by them. The Company engages KBA Consulting Management Limited (or the "Manager") to manage certain duties and responsibilities with regards to the day-to-day management of the Company.

The Directors have delegated certain responsibilities to Northern Trust International Fund Administration Services (Ireland) Limited (the "Administrator"). The financial statements, which remain the responsibility of the Directors, are prepared on their behalf by the Administrator. The Company has appointed Northern Trust Fiduciary Services (Ireland) Limited (the "Depositary") to act as depositary of the Company's assets.

We tailored the scope of our audit taking into account the types of investments held by the Company, the involvement of third party service providers, the accounting processes and controls, and the industry in which the Company operates. We look at each sub-fund at an individual level.

In establishing the overall approach to our audit we assessed the risk of material misstatement at a sub-fund level, taking into account the nature, likelihood and potential magnitude of any misstatement. As part of our risk assessment, we considered the Company's interaction with the Administrator, and we assessed the control environment in place at the Administrator.

Materiality and audit approach

The scope of our audit is influenced by our application of materiality. We set certain quantitative thresholds for materiality. These, together with qualitative considerations, such as our understanding of the Company and its environment, the history of misstatements, the complexity of the Company and the reliability of the control environment, helped us to determine the scope of our audit and the nature, timing and extent of our audit procedures and to evaluate the effect of misstatements, both individually and on the financial statements as a whole.

Based on our professional judgement, we determined materiality for each of the Company's sub-funds as follows: 1% of the NAV at 31 March 2023. We have applied this benchmark because the main objective of the Company is to provide investors with a total return at a sub-fund level.

We have set performance materiality for the Company at 75% of materiality, having considered business risks and fraud risks associated with the Company and its control environment. This is to reduce to an appropriately low level the probability that the aggregate of uncorrected and undetected misstatements in the financial statements exceeds materiality for the financial statements as a whole.

We agreed with the Directors that we would report to them misstatements identified during our audit above 5% of each sub-fund's materiality, as well as misstatements below that amount that, in our view, warranted reporting for qualitative reasons.

Significant matters identified

The risks of material misstatement that had the greatest effect on our audit, including the allocation of our resources and effort, are set out below as significant matters together with an explanation of how we tailored our audit to address these specific areas in order to provide an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. This is not a complete list of all risks identified by our audit.

Independent auditor's report to the members of Canaccord Genuity Investment Funds Plc

Responsibilities of the auditor for the audit of the financial statements

The objectives of an auditor are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (Ireland) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Irish Auditing and Accounting Supervisory Authority's website at: http://www.iaasa.ie/getmedia/b2389013-1cf6-458b-9b8f-a98202dc9c3a/Description_of_auditors_responsibilities_for_audit.pdf. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Explanation as to what extent the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. Owing to the inherent limitations of an audit, there is an unavoidable risk that material misstatement in the financial statements may not be detected, even though the audit is properly planned and performed in accordance with the ISAs (Ireland). The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below.

Based on our understanding of the Company and industry, we identified that the principal risks of non-compliance with laws and regulations related to compliance with Listing Rules of the Euronext Dublin, Central Bank of Ireland ("CBI") Acts, UCITS Regulations, Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation ("SFDR") and Irish and EU Legislation, and we considered the extent to which non-compliance might have a material effect on the financial statements. We also considered those laws and regulations that have a direct impact on the preparation of the financial statements such as the Companies Act 2014 and Irish tax legislation. We evaluated management's incentives and opportunities for fraudulent manipulation of the financial statements (including the risk of override of controls), and determined that the principal risks were related to posting inappropriate journal entries to manipulate financial performance and management bias through judgements and assumptions in significant accounting estimates, in particular in relation to significant one-off or unusual transactions. We apply professional scepticism through the audit to consider potential deliberate omission or concealment of significant transactions, or incomplete/inaccurate disclosures in the financial statement.

In response to these principal risks, our audit procedures included but were not limited to:

- inquiries of management on the policies and procedures in place regarding compliance with laws and regulations, including consideration of known or suspected instances of non-compliance and whether they have knowledge of any actual, suspected or alleged fraud;
- inspection of the Company's regulatory and legal correspondence and review of minutes of board meetings during the year to corroborate inquiries made;
- gaining an understanding of the internal controls established to mitigate risk related to fraud;
- discussion amongst the engagement team in relation to the identified laws and regulations and regarding the risk of fraud, and remaining alert to any indications of non-compliance or opportunities for fraudulent manipulation of financial statements throughout the audit;
- identifying and testing journal entries to address the risk of inappropriate journals and management override of controls;
- designing audit procedures to incorporate unpredictability around the nature, timing or extent of our testing;
- challenging assumptions and judgements made by management in their significant accounting estimates;
- review of the financial statement disclosures to underlying supporting documentation and inquiries of management; and
- engagement partner's assessment of the engagement team's collective competence and capabilities to identify or recognise non-compliance with the laws and regulation.

The primary responsibility for the prevention and detection of irregularities including fraud rests with those charged with governance and management. As with any audit, there remains a risk of non-detection or irregularities, as these may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or override of internal controls.

The purpose of our audit work and to whom we owe our responsibilities

This report is made solely to the Company's members, as a body, in accordance with section 391 of the Companies Act 2014. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

2. PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The significant accounting policies adopted by the Company are as follows:

Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis. The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 2014, International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”), as adopted by the European Union and the UCITS Regulations and the Central Bank UCITS Regulations.

New and amended accounting standards in issue that have been adopted:

“Reference to the Conceptual Framework (Amendments to IFRS 3)” updates an outdated reference in IFRS 3. The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2022, with earlier application permitted. The adoption of the standard has not had a material impact on the Company.

‘Annual Improvements 2018-2020’ makes amendments to IFRS 1, IFRS 9 and IAS 41. The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2022. The adoption of the standard has not had a material impact on the Company.

Accounting standards in issue that are not yet effective and have not been early adopted:

IFRS 17 Insurance Contracts, Disclosure of Accounting Policies – Amendments to IAS 1 and IFRS Practice Statement 2, Definition of Accounting Estimate – Amendments to IAS 8 and Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a single transaction – Amendments to IAS 12, Onerous Contracts the Cost of Fulfilling a Contract – Amendments to IAS 37 and Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-Current – Amendments to IAS 1 are in issue, are not yet effective and have not been early adopted by the Company. The impact of the amendments on the Company is currently being assessed.

There are no other standards, amendments to standards or interpretations that are not yet effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023 which have had a material effect on the financial statements of the Company.

Use of Estimates and Judgements

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the year in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that year, or in the year of the revision and future years if the revision affects both current and future years.

Information about judgements made in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effects on the amounts recognised in the financial statements are included in the functional currency disclosed in Note 2.

Information about assumptions and estimation uncertainties that have a significant risk of resulting in a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the financial year ended 31 March 2023 is included in Note 6 and relates to the determination of fair value of financial instruments with significant unobservable inputs if any.

Financial Instruments

Classification

The Company classifies financial assets and liabilities into the following categories:

Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit and loss ("FVTPL"):

Assets

The Company classifies its investments based on both the Company's business model for managing those financial assets and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets. The portfolio of financial assets is managed and performance is evaluated on a fair value basis. The Company is primarily focused on fair value information and uses that information to assess the assets' performance and to make decisions. The Company has not taken the option to irrevocably designate any equity securities as fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI"). The contractual cash flows of the Fund's debt securities are solely payments of principal and interest ("SPPI"), however, these securities are neither held for the purpose of collecting contractual cash flows nor held both for collecting contractual cash flows and for sale. The collection of contractual cash flows is only incidental to achieving the Company's business model's objective. Consequently, all investments are measured at FVTPL.

Liabilities

Derivative contracts that have a negative fair value are presented as financial liabilities at FVTPL.

As such, the Company classifies all of its investment portfolio as financial assets or liabilities at FVTPL.

The Company classifies fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level I – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities. The type of investment which would generally be included would include equities, certain exchange traded funds and derivatives listed on a securities exchange.
- Level II – Quoted prices in markets that are not considered to be active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly (including quoted prices for similar investments in active markets, interest rates and yield curves, credit risk, etc.). The type of investments which would generally be included in this category would include corporate bonds, certain investment funds, bank debt and certain over-the-counter derivatives.
- Level III – Price or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable (including the Investment Manager's own assumptions and assumptions used by the Board of Directors about what market participants would use in determining the fair value of investments). The type of investments which would generally be included in this category would include private or debt securities issued by private entities. The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with investing in those securities.

If any of the Funds hold level 3 investment at the year end date, these will be recognised as at the year end date.

Recognition and Measurement

The Company recognises financial assets and financial liabilities on the date it becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Transactions are recognised using trade date accounting.

Financial assets and liabilities categorised as at FVTPL, are measured initially at fair value, with transaction costs for such instruments being recognised directly in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Subsequent changes in the fair value of financial instruments at FVTPL, are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Subsequent Measurement

After initial measurement, the Company measures financial instruments which are classified as at FVTPL, at their fair values. Fair value is the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value of financial instruments is based on their quoted market prices on a recognised exchange or sourced from a reputable broker/counterparty, in the case of non-exchange traded instruments, at the Statement of Financial Position date without any deduction for estimated future selling costs.

Assets listed or traded on a recognised exchange for which market quotations are readily available shall be valued for financial reporting purposes at the last traded price on the relevant exchange, taking into account any premium or discount where the asset was acquired or trades at an off-market premium or discount if appropriate.

The value of any security which is not quoted, listed or dealt in on a recognised exchange, or which is so quoted, listed or dealt but for which no such quotation or value is available, or for which the available quotation or value is not representative of the fair market value, shall be the probable realisation value at the year end date as estimated with care and good faith by (a) the Directors or (b) a competent person, firm or corporation (including the Investment Manager) selected by the Directors and approved for the purpose by the Depositary or (c) any other means provided that the value is approved by the Depositary.

Cash in hand or on deposit will be valued at its nominal or face value plus accrued interest or less debit interest, where applicable, to the end of the relevant day on which the Valuation Point occurs. The Valuation Point is the time at which all the securities are valued and exchanged rates are used to convert foreign currencies and cash.

Exchange-traded derivative instruments will be valued based on the settlement price as determined by the market where the instrument is traded. If such settlement price is not available, such value shall be calculated in accordance with valuating a security which is not quoted, listed or dealt in or on a recognised exchange as outlined previously.

Forward foreign currency contract may be valued by reference to freely available market quotations or, if such quotations are not available, in accordance with the provisions in respect of Over The Counter ("OTC") derivatives.

For listed investments in investment funds the fair value is based on their quoted market prices from a recognized stock exchange. For investments in investment funds which are not quoted on a recognised stock exchange the market price used is the unaudited net asset value provided by the administrator of the funds. Please refer to pages 62 and 63 for the financial instruments classed as level 1, level 2 and level 3 during the financial year.

Notwithstanding the above provisions the Directors may: (a) adjust the valuation of any particular asset; or (b) permit some other method of valuation approved by the Depositary, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed, to be used in respect of any particular asset if, having regard to exchange rate, applicable rate of interest, maturity, marketability and/or such other considerations as they deem relevant, they consider that, in the case of (a) above, such adjustment or, in the case of (b) above, the use of such other method of valuation is required to reflect more fairly the value of such assets. The rationale for adjusting the value of any asset must be clearly documented.

Financial assets and liabilities at Amortised cost:

Classification

Financial assets that are classified as measured at amortised cost include Cash deposits, Subscriptions receivable, Securities sold receivable, Interest and Dividends receivable and Other assets.

Financial liabilities that are classified as measured at amortised cost include Redemptions payable, Securities purchased payable, Management fee payable, Management Company fee payable and Other liabilities.

Subsequent Measurement

Financial assets are measured at amortised cost if the assets meet the following conditions (and are not designated as FVTPL):

- They are held within a business model whose objective is to hold the financial assets and collect its contractual cash flows, and
- The contractual terms of the financial assets give rise to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

These financial assets and liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Amortised cost measurement principles

The 'amortised cost' of a financial asset or financial liability is the amount at which the financial asset or financial liability is measured on initial recognition minus the principal repayments, plus or minus the cumulative amortisation using the effective interest method of any difference between that initial amount and the maturity amount and, for financial assets, adjusted for any loss allowance.

Impairment

IFRS 9's impairment requirements use forward-looking information to recognise expected credit losses – the 'expected credit loss (ECL) model'. Instruments within the scope of the requirements included financial assets measured at amortised cost.

The Company considers a broader range of information when assessing credit risk and measuring expected credit losses, including past events, current conditions, reasonable and supportable forecasts that affect the expected collectability of the future cash flows of the instrument.

In applying this forward-looking approach, a distinction is made between:

- Financial instruments that have not deteriorated significantly in credit quality since initial recognition or that have low credit risk ('Stage 1') and

In applying this forward-looking approach, a distinction is made between: (continued)

- Financial instruments that have deteriorated significantly in credit quality since initial recognition and whose credit risk is not low ('Stage 2').

'Stage 3' would cover financial assets that have objective evidence of impairment at the reporting date.

'12-month expected credit losses' are recognised for the first category (ie Stage 1) while 'lifetime expected credit losses' are recognised for the second category (ie Stage 2).

Measurement of the expected credit losses is determined by a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses over the expected life of the financial instrument.

The Company have assessed that impairment does not apply to financial assets classified as fair value through profit or loss. The Company considers the probability of default of amortised cost assets to be close to zero, as these instruments have a low risk of default and the counterparties have a strong capacity to meet their contractual obligations in the near term. As a result, no loss allowance has been recognised in the financial statements based on 12-month expected credit losses as any such impairment would be wholly insignificant to the Company.

Derecognition

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expired or it has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership. The Company derecognises a financial liability when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired.

Forward foreign currency contracts

Forward foreign currency contracts are valued at the forward rate at the closing date through the residual term of the contracts. Realised and unrealised gains and losses resulting from forward foreign currency contracts are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Income

Investment income is reported gross of irrecoverable withholding tax. Dividends are recognised as income on the dates the securities are first quoted "ex-dividend". In certain situations dividends are accounted for on a cash receipts basis where this is more appropriate. Bond interest is accounted for on an effective interest basis. Deposit interest and other income are accounted for on an accruals basis.

Operating expenses

The Company is responsible for all normal operating expenses including audit fees, stamp and other duties and charges incurred on the acquisition and realisation of investments. All operating expenses are charged to the Statement of Comprehensive Income on an accruals basis.

Net realised gain/(loss) on investments

The computation of realised gains and losses on sales of investments is made on a first in first out basis for all Funds with the exception of Canaccord Genuity Global Equity Fund which is calculated on the average book cost.

Functional currency

Items included in the Company's financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which it operates (the 'functional currency'). The functional and presentation currency of the Company is Sterling. The functional and presentation currency for each Fund is Sterling with the exception of Canaccord Genuity Balanced Fund, Canaccord Genuity Growth Fund, Canaccord Genuity Opportunity Fund, Canaccord Genuity Global Equity Fund and Canaccord Genuity Thematic ESG Fund where the functional and presentation currency is US Dollar. To calculate the total Company figures, US Dollar assets and liabilities in the Statement of Financial Position have been translated to Sterling at the financial year end rate of exchange for the financial year ended 31 March 2023 and the US Dollar income, expenses, gains and losses have been translated at the average rate of exchange on the Statement of Comprehensive Income. The foreign exchange adjustment on aggregation arising from the translation of the opening net assets is shown in the Statement of Changes in Net Assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares. The foreign exchange adjustment on aggregation in the Statement of Cash Flows arises from the difference between the average rates used in the Statement of Comprehensive Income and the financial year end rate used for the Statement of Financial Position cash balances. The method of translation has no effect on the Net Asset Value per share attributable to the individual Funds.

Foreign currencies

Transactions which occurred during the period are translated into the functional currency of the Fund at the exchange rate prevailing on the transaction date. Assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated into the Fund's functional currency at exchange rates prevailing at the Statement of Financial Position date. Resulting gains or losses are reported in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Cash

Cash includes cash in hand, broker cash and deposits held at call with banks and bank overdrafts.

Transaction costs

Transaction costs are incremental costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, issue or disposal of a financial asset or liability. An incremental cost is one that would not have been incurred if the entity had not acquired, issued or disposed of the financial instrument. When a financial asset or liability is recognised initially, an entity shall measure it at its fair value through profit or loss plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial asset or liability.

Transaction costs on the purchase and sale of bonds, forward foreign currency contracts, swaps and futures are included in the purchase and sale price of the investment. Transaction costs shown separately on the Statement of Comprehensive Income comprise fees and agent charges by the depositary or any sub-custodian.

Offsetting financial assets and financial liabilities

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset when a current legal right of offset exists and there is intent to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously or on a net basis.

Income equalisation

Income equalisation is a process by which accrued income included in the price of shares purchased and redeemed during the accounting period is reported to Shareholders. The subscription price of Shares is deemed to include an equalisation payment calculated by reference to the accrued income of the relevant Fund and the first distribution in respect of any Share will include a payment of income usually equal to or greater than the amount of such equalisation payment. The redemption price of each Share will also include an equalisation payment in respect of the accrued income of the relevant Fund up to the date of redemption. Income equalisation is classified as finance costs in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Subscriptions receivable and redemptions payable

Subscriptions receivable and redemptions payable relate to receivables on share subscriptions and payables on share redemptions that have been contracted for but not yet settled or delivered on the reporting date, respectively. These are recorded initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Redeemable participating shares

Redeemable participating shares are redeemable at the shareholder's option and are classified as financial liabilities. The income distributed on these shares is recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income as a finance cost.

Subscriptions for shares not yet allocated

Subscriptions for shares not yet allocated are proceeds for Subscriptions received in advance by the Fund.

Securities sold receivable

Securities sold receivable are investments which are no longer held on the portfolio at the year end date but which the Company is yet to receive payment for.

Securities purchased payable

Securities purchase payable are investments which are held on the portfolio at the year end date which the Company has not yet made a payment for.

Net asset value per redeemable participating share

The net asset value per redeemable participating share disclosed on the face of the Statement of Financial Position is calculated in accordance with the Articles of Association and the Prospectus by dividing the net assets included in note 13, by the number of redeemable participating shares outstanding at the financial year end, also included in note 13.

Structured Entities

A structured entity is an entity that has been designed so that voting or similar rights are not the dominant factor in deciding who controls the entity, such as when any voting rights relate to administrative tasks only and the relevant activities are directed by means of contractual arrangements.

A structured entity often has some or all of the following features or attributes; (a) restricted activities, (b) a narrow and well-defined objective, such as to provide investment opportunities for investors by passing on risks and rewards associated with the assets of the structured entity to investors, (c) insufficient equity to permit the structured entity to finance its activities without subordinated financial support and (d) financing in the form of multiple contractually linked instruments to investors that create concentrations of credit or other risks (tranches).

The Company considers all of its investments in funds to be investments in unconsolidated structured entities on the basis that they hold a number of features similar to that of a structured entity, such as:

- the voting rights in the funds are not dominant rights in deciding who controls them because the rights relate to administrative tasks only;
- each fund's activities are restricted by its prospectus; and
- the funds have narrow and well-defined objectives to provide investment opportunities to investors.

6. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Global Exposure

The commitment approach is the method used to calculate global exposure on all Funds. As at 31 March 2023, Canaccord Genuity Cautious Fund, Canaccord Genuity Balanced Fund, Canaccord Genuity Growth Fund, Canaccord Genuity Opportunity Fund, Canaccord Genuity Bond Fund, Canaccord Genuity Global Equity Fund and Canaccord Genuity Thematic ESG Fund held forward foreign currency contracts for hedging purposes.

Strategy in Using Financial Instruments

The Funds (with the exception of Canaccord Genuity Global Equity Fund) are indirectly exposed to the inherent risks by virtue of the Funds' investments in underlying investment funds.

All Funds are exposed to a variety of financial risks in pursuing their stated investment objective and policy. These risks include market risk (which in turn includes but not limited to, currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Funds take exposure to a certain amount of these risks to generate investment returns on a portfolio, although these risks can also potentially result in a reduction in a Fund's net assets. The Investment Manager uses its best endeavours to minimise the potentially adverse effects of these risks to a Fund's performance where it can do so, while still managing the investments of each Fund in a way that is consistent with each Fund's investment objective and policy.

The risks, and the measures adopted by the Funds for managing these risks, are detailed below.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk.

The Investment Manager moderates market risk through a careful selection of securities and other financial instruments within specified limits, as set out in the Prospectus. The maximum risk resulting from financial instruments is determined by the fair value of the financial instruments, possible losses from short positions of derivatives and securities can be unlimited. The Funds' overall market positions are monitored by the Investment Manager and are reported regularly to the Board of Directors.

At 31 March 2023, the Company's market risk is affected by three main components:

- (a) changes in actual market prices ("market price risk");
- (b) foreign currency movements ("foreign currency risk"); and
- (c) interest rate movements ("interest rate risk").

Market Price Risk

Market price risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices.

The values of certain securities held by the Funds are determined by market forces and there is accordingly a risk that market prices can change in a way that is adverse to a Fund's performance. The Funds have adopted a number of investment restrictions which are set out in the Prospectus which limit the exposure of the Fund to adverse changes in the price of any individual financial asset. The Investment Manager monitors Fund positions and reports regularly to the Board of Directors.

For the purposes of valuing underlying investment funds, the Funds do not independently calculate these prices but rely on third party pricing sources.

The maximum risk arising from an investment in a financial instrument is determined by the fair value of the financial instruments, except for short positions in derivatives and securities where the loss may potentially be unlimited.

Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Funds are exposed to currency risk as assets and liabilities of a Fund may be denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the Fund. Whilst additional currency hedging is carried out at a share class level for hedged share classes, this does not change the currency exposure at a Fund level and has therefore not been included in the tables overleaf.

The currency risk exposure of the Funds, net of hedging at 31 March 2023 and at 31 March 2022 is detailed in the table overleaf.

The fluctuations in the rate of exchange between the currency in which the asset or liability is denominated and the functional currency could result in an appreciation or depreciation in the fair value of that asset. The Investment Manager may attempt to mitigate this risk by using financial derivative instruments.

The Investment Manager monitors currency exposures daily and reports on the overall performance of the Funds quarterly to the Board of Directors.

Interest Rate Risk

As at 31 March 2023, the Funds holding interest bearing assets are shown in the tables below. As a result, they are subject to the risk of potentially adverse movements in the prevailing levels of market interest rates. The Investment Manager may from time to time enter into contracts on behalf of the Funds that seek to mitigate the effects of these movements.

All of the Funds hold cash at bank, which is subject to interest rate risk however this risk is minimal.

Interest-bearing financial assets are monitored by the Investment Manager as part of the overall Fund portfolio; issues are reported to the Board of Directors on an exception basis.

Credit Risk, Custody and Title Risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation.

The Canaccord Genuity Cautious Fund, Canaccord Genuity Balanced Fund, Canaccord Genuity Growth Fund, Canaccord Genuity Opportunity Fund, Canaccord Genuity Bond Fund, Canaccord Genuity Global Equity Fund and Canaccord Genuity Thematic ESG Fund also have credit risk exposure to counterparties of derivative contracts entered into by each of these Funds for the purpose of currency hedging.

With the exception of the Canaccord Genuity Opportunity Fund, Canaccord Genuity Bond Fund and Canaccord Genuity Global Equity Fund, all other Funds in the Company invest predominantly in investment funds.

Each Fund limits its exposure to individual issuers of debt securities and counterparties to Over the Counter (“OTC”) derivatives in accordance with the investment restrictions set out in the Company’s Prospectus. Transactions in securities are generally settled or paid for on delivery, or cleared through the appropriate clearing system for the market on which the securities are traded. The risk of default is not considered to be material, as delivery of securities sold is only made once the Fund’s depository has received confirmation of payment. Payment is also only made on a purchase once confirmation of delivery of the securities has been received by the depository. The trade will fail if either party fails to deliver the required confirmations.

Northern Trust Fiduciary Services (Ireland) Limited (“NTFSIL”) is the appointed Depository of the Company, and is responsible for the safe-keeping of assets. NTFSIL has appointed The Northern Trust Company (“TNTC”) as its global sub-custodian. Both NTFSIL and TNTC are wholly owned subsidiaries of Northern Trust Corporation (“NTC”). As at year-end date 31 March 2023, NTC had a long term credit rating from Standard & Poor’s of A+ (31 March 2022: A+).

TNTC (as global sub-custodian of NTFSIL) does not appoint external sub-custodians within the U.S., the U.K., Ireland, Canada, Belgium, France, Germany, Netherlands and Saudi Arabia. However, in all other markets, TNTC appoints local external sub-custodians.

NTFSIL, in the discharge of its depository duties, verifies the Company’s ownership of Other Assets, as defined under Art 22(5) of UCITS V Directive 2014/91/EU (“Other Assets”), by assessing whether the Company holds the ownership based on information or documents provided by the Company or where available, on external evidence.

TNTC, in the discharge of its delegated depository duties, holds in custody (i) all financial instruments that may be registered in a financial instruments account opened on the books of TNTC and (ii) all financial instruments that can be physically delivered to TNTC. TNTC ensures all financial instruments (held in a financial instruments account on the books of TNTC) are held in segregated accounts in the name of the Company, clearly identifiable as belonging to the Company, and distinct and separately from the proprietary assets of TNTC, NTFSIL and NTC.

In addition TNTC, as banker, holds cash of the Company on deposit. Such cash is held on the balance sheet of TNTC. In the event of insolvency of TNTC, in accordance with standard banking practice, the Company will rank as an unsecured creditor of TNTC in respect of any cash deposits.

Insolvency of NTFSIL and or one of its agents or affiliates may cause the Company’s rights with respect to its assets to be delayed.

The Investment Manager monitors the credit quality and financial position of the Depository and such risk is further managed by the Depository monitoring the credit quality and financial positions of sub-custodian appointments.

The Investment Manager monitors the Funds’ credit exposures in accordance with the requirements of the Company Prospectus and Supplements and advises the Board of Directors on a regular basis on the overall performance of the Funds and associated risks. At 31 March 2023 and at 31 March 2022, the Funds’ exposure to credit risk from investments in debt securities was as follows:

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities as they fall due.

The Funds are exposed to daily cash redemptions of redeemable shares. The Funds invest the majority of their assets in securities and other instruments that are traded on an active market and which are considered to be liquid as they can be readily disposed of in the event that cash needs to be raised to meet redemptions or to pay expenses.

The Investment Manager monitors liquidity and reports regularly to the Board of Directors.

At 31 March 2023 and at 31 March 2022, the Company's financial liabilities were all due within one month.

RISK ITEM (UNAUDITED)

Cybersecurity Risk

Cybersecurity breaches may occur allowing an unauthorized party to gain access to assets of the Funds, Shareholder data, or proprietary information, or may cause the Company, the Investment Manager, the Marketing and Distributing Agents, the Administrator, the Depositary or the UCITS Management Company to suffer data corruption or lose operational functionality.

The Funds may be affected by intentional cybersecurity breaches which include unauthorized access to systems, networks, or devices (such as through “hacking” activity); infection from computer viruses or other malicious software code; and attacks that shut down, disable, slow, or otherwise disrupt operations, business processes, or website access or functionality. In addition, unintentional incidents can occur, such as the inadvertent release of confidential information (possibly resulting in the violation of applicable privacy laws). A cybersecurity breach could result in the loss or theft of Shareholder data or funds, the inability to access electronic systems, loss or theft of proprietary information or corporate data, physical damage to a computer or network system, or costs associated with system repairs. Such incidents could cause the Company, the Investment Manager, the UCITS Management Company, the Marketing and Distributing Agents, the Administrator, the Depositary, or other service providers to incur regulatory penalties, reputational damage, additional compliance costs, or financial loss. Consequently, Shareholders may lose some or all of their invested capital. In addition, such incidents could affect issuers in which a Fund invests, and thereby cause a Fund's investments to lose value, as a result of which investors, including the relevant Fund and its Shareholders, could potentially lose all or a portion of their investment with that issuer.

REMUNERATION DISCLOSURE (UNAUDITED)

The Manager has designed and implemented a remuneration policy (the “Policy”) in line with the provisions of S.I. 257 of 2013 European Union (Alternative Investment Fund Managers) Regulations 2013 (the “AIFM Regulations”), S.I. 352 of 2011 European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2011 (as amended) (the “UCITS Regulations”) and of the ESMA Guidelines on sound remuneration policies under the UCITS Directive and AIFMD (the “ESMA Guidelines”). The Policy is designed to ensure that the remuneration of key decision makers is aligned with the management of short and long-term risks, including the oversight and where appropriate the management of sustainability risks in line with the Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulations.

The Manager’s remuneration policy applies to its identified staff whose professional activities might have a material impact on the Company’s risk profile and so covers senior management, risk takers, control functions and any employees receiving total remuneration that takes them into the same remuneration bracket as senior management and risk takers and whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profile of the Company. The Manager’s policy is to pay identified staff a fixed component with the potential for identified staff to receive a variable component. It is intended that the fixed component will represent a sufficiently high proportion of the total remuneration of the individual to allow the Manager to operate a fully flexible policy, with the possibility of not paying any variable component. When the Manager pays a variable component as performance related pay certain criteria, as set out in the Manager’s remuneration policy, must be adhered to. The various remuneration components are combined to ensure an appropriate and balanced remuneration package that reflects the relevant staff rank and professional activity as well as best market practice. The Manager’s remuneration policy is consistent with, and promotes, sound and effective risk management and does not encourage risk-taking which is inconsistent with the risk profile of the funds it manages.

These disclosures are made in respect of the remuneration policies of the Manager. The disclosures are made in accordance with the ESMA Guidelines.

Total remuneration (in EUR) paid to the identified staff of the Manager fully or partly involved in the activities of the Company that have a material impact on the Company’s risk profile during the financial year to 31 December 2022:

Fixed remuneration	EUR
Senior Management	1,387,113
Other identified staff	-
Variable remuneration
Senior Management	180,517
Other identified staff	-
Total remuneration paid	1,567,630

No of identified staff – 15

Neither the Manager nor the Company pays any fixed or variable remuneration to identified staff of the Investment Manager.

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not lay down a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

What environmental and/or social characteristics are promoted by this financial product?

The Fund is a 'fund of funds' that pursues its investment objective by investing primarily in a diversified range of thematic funds that deliver competitive returns, mitigate ESG risks, pursue ESG opportunities and focus on measurable impact solutions. All underlying fund holdings are selected by the Investment Manager because they seek to help achieve a defined sustainability challenge.

The characteristics promoted by the Fund consist of investing in underlying funds with which exclude at a minimum the types of company listed below based on the products and services they offer:

- Tobacco; companies deriving more than 10% of their revenues from tobacco;

- Weapons; companies that produce or sell civilian firearms and/or manufacture or sell armaments, nuclear weapons or associated strategic products;
- Gambling; companies deriving more than 10% of their revenues from gambling;
- Adult Entertainment; companies that own an adult-entertainment company or produce adult entertainment;
- Fossil Fuels; companies engaged in the extraction of oil, gas or coal.

The Fund is actively managed and is not managed or constrained in any way by a benchmark. All underlying holdings are selected by the Investment Manager because they seek to help achieve a defined sustainability challenge, such as those identified by the UN Sustainable Development Goals as having a positive impact on society, see below.

● What sustainability indicators are used to measure the attainment of each of the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this financial product?

The Investment Manager reviews disclosure documents of the underlying funds to ensure that underlying funds are classified as subject to either Article 8 or Article 9 of SFDR.

The Investment Manager conducts quantitative and qualitative assessments of the ESG profile of each fund held in the Fund. The Investment Manager seeks to identify and invest in funds that buy companies where at least 50% of that company's revenue is aligned to a theme identified by the UN Sustainable Development Goals as having a positive impact on society (the UN SDG Theme). As part of the quantitative and qualitative assessments, the Investment Manager seeks to score a fund's ESG profile by assessing it against its environmental, social and corporate governance policies. The performance of funds under these policies are measured and recorded by reference to Morningstar sustainability. If a fund is deemed not to meet the minimum standards required by the Investment Manager, it may not be held in the Fund.

The Investment Manager believes that climate change and diversity are highly relevant for every company and expect underlying investment managers to have a particular focus on one or both of these issues.

Understanding Product Impact in particular is critical to the Investment Manager's investment process. It does this via a framework that considers intentionality, additionality and materiality, which are widely recognised impact investing principles. In the context of its process this means:

Intentionality – Are the companies within the UN SDG Theme in terms of vision and mission consciously aligned with positive impact?

Materiality – Does or will the companies within the UN SDG Theme have significant positive impact on the world if they successfully execute on their strategy?

Additionality – Are the companies within the UN SDG Theme attempting to disrupt an unsustainable incumbent system?

Strategic positioning is critical for success, but the Investment Manager also needs to assess operational quality. This includes internal controls, audit, board oversight and disclosures. An entrepreneurial spirit is to be encouraged and typically aligns with the pace of innovation, but only within the right risk framework.

The Investment Manager therefore expects underlying investment managers to regularly speak to companies on a range of material impact issues to enable them to update their investment thesis. This engagement allows them to identify and monitor strategic and operational change before it occurs and ensures a progressive management philosophy

Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

The Investment Manager expects underlying investment managers to identify and track material company-specific key performance indicators (KPIs) for each business that they invest in and the Investment Manager seeks to monitor the underlying funds' adherence to those KPIs through the analysis of the underlying funds' impact reports. The Investment Manager believes that climate change and diversity are highly relevant for every company and expect underlying investment managers to have a particular focus on one or both of these issues.

Climate Change – the Investment Manager expects underlying investment managers to seek disclosure of emissions using well-established methodologies and that companies set meaningful targets to reduce their emissions (where this is not already undertaken). The Investment Manager expects all underlying investment managers to ask all companies how they are investing to move towards net zero and over what timescales.

The Investment Manager meets with underlying investment managers biannually and these subjects are discussed and each underlying investment manager produces their records on ESG issues such as voting and engagement records for the preceding six months.

● What are the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially intends to make and how does the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The Fund will not make sustainable investments.

● How do the sustainable investments that the financial product partially intends to make, not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

The Fund will not make sustainable investments.

— — — How have the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors been taken into account?

Certain principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors are considered as part of the overall assessment of target investments. In relation to investment in underlying funds, each underlying investment manager has been contacted to provide data on its principle adverse impacts. This assessment will continue and should develop as more meaningful data becomes available.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific EU criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How are the sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Fund will not make sustainable investments. The Investment Manager considers alignment with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights as part of its due diligence process in selecting underlying funds for investment.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

Does this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Yes

No - The Fund does not currently consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors.

The investment strategy guides investment decisions based on factors such as investment objectives and risk tolerance.

What investment strategy does this financial product follow?

In seeking to achieve the Fund's investment objective, the Investment Manager will combine exposure to the various ESG themes such as clean energy, electric vehicles, clean water, waste management, recyclable and reusable materials, cyber security and data privacy, collaborative robotics and affordable healthcare, which the Investment Manager believes will offer a sensible long-term investment strategy while making a positive difference.

The Investment Manager uses a team-oriented, bottom-up approach to identify potential investment themes. The Investment Manager researches global thematic funds which are either growing faster than the MSCI World Index or which it thinks are likely to do so.

The Investment Manager aims to accelerate the transition to a positive future and create wealth for investors by actively investing in themes that have what it views as a transformational positive impact. The Investment Manager believes the best long-term growth opportunities will be innovative companies which are addressing the most significant sustainability challenges, because innovation creates the most value, where frictions are most acute. This means investing at the intersection of disruptive innovation and the unsustainable status quo. The Investment Manager believes that to do this in the most risk controlled manner picking funds is a better option for most clients than picking stocks. Furthermore, it believes underlying investment managers undertaking impact analysis, as an integral part of their fundamental analysis, will provide a source of investment insight that enables them (and the Investment Manager) to identify and invest in disruptive change early.

All of the Investment Manager's underlying themes are underpinned by megatrends of sustainability, demographic development, economic growth, globalisation and technological innovation. In addition, a number of its individual themes have a unique investment case and offer a route for investors into actively managed funds that invest globally in companies along very specialist value chains.

The Investment Manager does not use market cap weighted global indexes as a starting point for portfolio construction. Its process is purely bottom-up and does not contain any benchmark consideration, concentrating only on high convictions. Market cap weighted indices are backward looking by construction and thus emphasize past winners. The Investment Manager's process aims to be forward looking. Many of the underlying fund managers will invest in under-owned and under-researched companies. As a result the Investment Manager's portfolios have high active share and limited overlaps with global equity indices which contributes to diversification when combined with standard global equity portfolios.

The Fund will be unconstrained with regards to sectors, sizes, regions or styles. Exposure to such factors is purely the result of stock picking as the underlying portfolios of the underlying investment managers only contain conviction holdings. As a result, the Fund may have small and mid cap exposures and might also display sector and regional deviations compared to global indexes.

● What are the binding elements of the investment strategy used to select the investments to attain each of the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this financial product?

Sustainability Risks are integrated into the Fund's investment decisions. Where the level of risk is deemed to be unacceptable, the Investment Manager will either not invest or will sell a holding. The Investment Manager's environmental, social and governance committee (the ESG Committee) provides oversight of Sustainability Risks. These decisions are made in line with the overall approach to sustainability through the application of quantitative and qualitative assessments and engagement with the underlying investment managers.

At least 90% of the net assets of the investee companies held by each underlying fund are expected to meet the requirements set out in the Investment Manager's ESG checklist on an ongoing basis. These companies must score at least 4 out of 10 on the Investment Manager's checklist. This score is derived by aggregating the scores out of 10, obtained across the three sections of the Investment Manager checklist below:

- Carbon Intensity Scope 1;
- Carbon Intensity Scope 2;
- Carbon Intensity Scope 3;
- Carbon Intensity Scope 1 + 2 + 3;
- Water Intensity;
- Waste Intensity;
- Low Carbon Transition Management Score;
- Low Carbon Transition Score;
- Any additional areas of concern such as climate change targets and supply chain.

As described above, the Investment Manager will invest in funds that exclude at a minimum the types of company listed above based on the products and services they offer.

The Investment Manager conducts quantitative and qualitative assessments of the ESG profile of each fund held in the Fund. The Investment Manager seeks to identify and invest in funds that buy companies where at least 50% of that company's revenue is aligned to a theme identified by the UN Sustainable Development Goals as having a positive impact on society. As part of the quantitative and qualitative assessments, the Investment Manager seeks to score a fund's ESG profile by assessing it against its environmental, social and corporate governance policies. The performance of funds under these policies are measured and recorded by reference to Morningstar sustainability. If a fund is deemed not to meet the minimum standards required by the Investment Manager, it may not be held in the Fund.

● What is the committed minimum rate to reduce the scope of the investments considered prior to the application of that investment strategy?

The Fund does not currently commit to reduce the scope of investments by a minimum rate.

● What is the policy to assess good governance practices of the investee companies?

The Investment Manager's ESG Committee provides oversight of Sustainability Risks and expects underlying funds to follow the principles of the UK Corporate Governance Code and consider the following areas: Remuneration, capital allocation record, board independence, board diversity and voting.

The ESG Committee expect underlying investment managers to assess these areas both pre investment and on an ongoing basis and expect that underlying investment manager votes on behalf of the fund at every annual general meeting of its investee companies (unless this is not possible).

As responsible shareholders, the ESG Committee believes that it is also a duty of the underlying funds to engage with investee companies. In the Investment Manager's experience, active engagement can help foster positive long-term change in the way businesses are run and a greater understanding of a business.

The Investment Manager seeks to manage Sustainability Risks through engagement with the underlying investment managers of the funds the Fund invests in, speaking to industry competitors or representatives and liaising with other shareholders where relevant. Where the Investment Manager deems it appropriate in order to manage Sustainability Risks, the Investment Manager may ultimately choose to divest the investment.

The Investment Manager expects underlying investment managers to encourage portfolio companies to achieve strategic improvement in levels of boardroom diversity as well as seeking evidence of practices to ensure diversity throughout the workforce.

If changes have occurred with regards to the team, process or operations of an underlying investment manager, a review process will be undertaken and if the conclusion of the review process is unsatisfactory, the underlying fund will be sold.

What is the asset allocation planned for this financial product?

The investment objective of the Fund is to generate long-term capital growth by investing primarily in a portfolio of regulated collective investment schemes and fixed interest securities that have a clear and unambiguous focus on sustainability.

All underlying fund holdings are selected by the Investment Manager because they seek to help achieve a defined sustainability challenge.

In seeking to achieve its investment objective and policy, the Fund expects to invest up to/a maximum of 90% of its net assets in investments aligned with the E/S characteristics and will invest 10% of its net assets in 'Other' investments. The above percentage is indicative only and

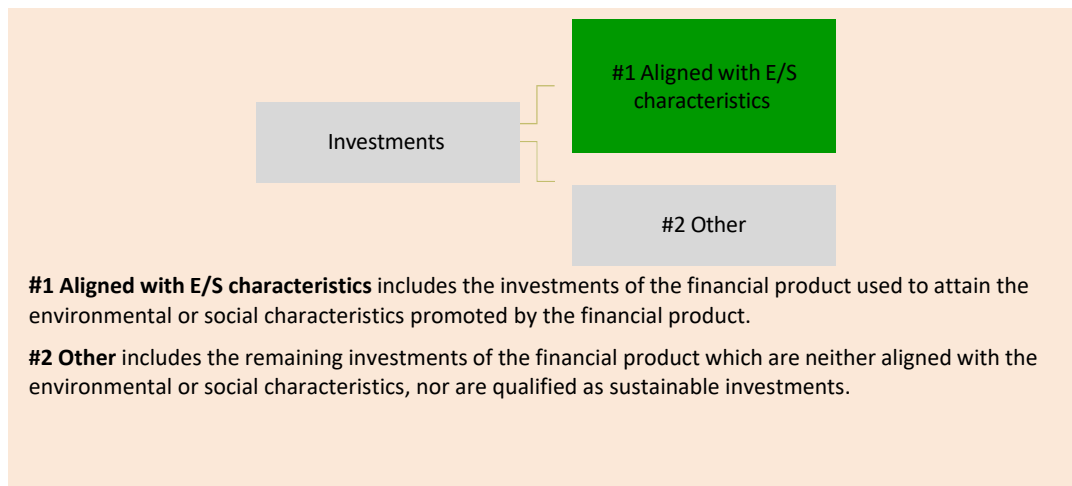

Good governance practices include sound management structures, employee relations, remuneration of staff and tax compliance.

Asset allocation describes the share of investments in specific assets.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are

How does the use of derivatives attain the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product?

The Fund does not use derivatives for the purposes of attaining the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Fund.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

To what minimum extent are sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The Fund has no minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that are aligned with the EU Taxonomy Regulation.

The two graphs below show in green the minimum percentage of investments that are aligned with the EU Taxonomy.
